

SCRIPT TITLE

Written by

Name of First Writer

Based on, If Any

Address
Phone Number

INT RADIO ANNOUNCER - DAY

Elevator music playing behind

NARRATOR

Too wasted to drive home drunk?
Need to take an Uber but afraid you might upchuck on a leather seat and have to pay for it? We have your solution, introducing Puker, the ride sharing service for people who like to drink to suppress memories,
but can't suppress street tacos.
With Puker, a Jamaican in a 95 Toyota Celica will pick you up and take you home. Don't worry about puking in the backseat, because everyone already has! No additional fees, no awkward arguments, and no guarantee you'll get home alive.
Puker... Because preserving your bank account means compromising your dignity.
Also, coming soon... For the modern, even heavier drunk...
Pooper, A newer ride sharing service in the bed of a 92 Ford Ranger. Earl uses it for muddling, now you can too.
Available now in the App Store.